About the Institution

The National Institute of Advanced Manufacturing Technology, NIAMT (Formerly-NIFFT) established by the Government of India in collaboration with UNDP-UNESCO in 1966. NIAMT offers specialized teaching and training programmes and conducts research and development activities applicable to Foundry, Forge Technology and other Manufacturing process. The Institute is located in Ranchi, the epicenter of various industrial activity and situated at a highly industrialized region. The Institute, therefore, provides ideal environment for carrying out studies and industrial research related to general manufacturing activities.

NIAMT is administered through a duly constituted Board of Governors representing Foundry and Forge organizations, professional bodies, education and research institutions, Ministry of Human Resource Development, the Ministry of Industry and All India Council for Technical Education.

The Institute is 100% residential and has a well planned campus at Ranchi, which is about 5 Km from Ranchi Airport, 8 Km from Ranchi Railway Station and 3 Km from Hatia Railway Station on the Ranchi-Chaibasa road and is on the periphery of the Heavy Engineering Corporation Ltd. All the students have to reside inside the Institute campus, for which adequate hostel facilities are available.

The Institute has been offering M. Tech. degree courses in Foundry-Forge Technology, Manufacturing Engineering, Material Science Engineering and Environmental Engineering, Advanced Diploma Courses in Foundry Technology and Forge Technology, B. Tech. Courses in Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering and Metallurgy & Materials Engineering, Refresher Courses and unit-based programmes. It also offers fellowship for doctoral level Programmes as well as Advanced Diploma level courses.

The Institute possesses well equipped laboratories and workshops, a modern Computer Centre, a Library & Documentation Centre and well qualified and experienced faculty members. The student's Gymkhana has facilities for indoor and outdoor games, sports, and cultural activities. An Institute Liaison Cell to arrange campus interview to find suitable opportunities for the students.

About the Course

The course programme aims to develop suitable personnel for the fast growing Foundry and Forge industries and allied Manufacturing industries in the country. The course is industrially oriented and is designed to impart professional specialization in the concerned fields. The programme of studies which is spread over a period of 18 months (3 Semesters) gives student the best opportunity for intensive study of the relevant subjects in the fields of Foundry/Forge Technology through lectures, laboratory and workshop practices, seminars, technical videos, inplant training.

The Govt. of India has granted recognition to the Advanced Diploma in Foundry/Forge Technology awarded by the National Institute of Advanced Manufacturing Technology, Ranchi for the purpose of recruitment to posts and services under the Central Government where specialized training in the field of foundry/forge technology is the prescribed qualification. The Advanced Diploma awarded by NIAMT is however, not equivalent to a degree in Engineering.

The Rules and Regulations for Advanced Diploma Courses are available at Ordinances & Regulations of ADC (niamt.ac.in). Further, the course structure for Foundry Technology and Forge Technology is available at ADC Syllabus (niamt.ac.in).

- All the admitted students will get stipend of Rs. 3000/- per month.

Admission fees of Rs. 38,500/- is to be deposited at the time of admission (Online payment).
